

JONATHAN AGMON, Secretary of the ECTA Internet Committee, Director of Soroker Agmon Nordman, Singapore.

Jonathan is a registered Foreign Lawyer in Singapore, a qualified Attorney in New York (US) and an Advocate in Israel. For the past 20 years, Jonathan has practiced Intellectual Property law specializing in complex litigation, prosecution of rights and the intersection between technology and law. Jonathan has been active in the areas of trademarks and domain names since 1995, during which year he authored one of the early works on domain name disputes. He has been a domain name panelist for WIPO since 2009, authoring some two hundred decisions. Jonathan is also a domain name panelist and arbiter for the National Arbitration Forum, the Asian Domain Name Dispute Resolution Centre and the Czech Arbitration Court Adr.eu platform. Jonathan also specializes in providing strategic advice to technology companies on IP strategy and prosecution. Prior to becoming an attorney, Jonathan engaged for a period of time in computer programming where he gained his background in computer software, hardware and networking.
