

MONA REMLAWI, Head, Design and Brand Database Section, WIPO, CH

After getting her diploma from the American University of Beirut in 2000, Mona proceeded to pursue a restless career in Software Development.

Passionate about creating engaging web interfaces, high performance distributed computation and everything in between.

Religious about code elegance; for her, code can read like poetry.

Mona moved from Beirut to Geneva in 2007 and is currently devoting her work fulltime for collecting Trademarks and Industrial Designs and integrating them into WIPO's Global Databases.
